NEW PRODUCTS

They're here! The much anticipated new season catalogues from Essentials and Biz Collection have arrived. With both catalogues weighing in at over 200 pages there's plenty on offer to freshen up your team uniform in 2009.

As usual, to save you the time and effort, we've been sifting through the offerings to find the best new styles and adding them to our Dynamix catalogue. The up-dated range can be viewed now at www.dynamix-team.co.nz, or call us to request a catalogue disk.

Some of the highlights are:

Essentials have added to and deepened their Merino and wool range garment with new styles and colours. The quality of these garments is superb, and with the ability to layer and match men's and women's styles this clearly is the best teamwear range of it's type.

With winter approaching, what better way to keep your team warm, and looking stylish, than with Merino wool layers? Nothing beats the thermal properties of wool for maintaining a comfortable body temperature.....

SPECIAL OF THE MONTH

Biz Collection has a reputation of value for money and for the breadth and depth of their product offering. The 2009 range adds further to that in both respects. There are fresh new styles in most categories, and they've added a selection of dress separates that will appeal to the hospitality, corporate office, public transportation and retail environments.

ECO APPAREL

In a world increasingly conscious of the environment and man's impact upon it, we are increasingly seeing products that are eco-friendly. Clothing and promotional products are no different. Whether by using fibres from natural re-newable resources, and re-cycled materials, or organic production methods these products have a lower environmental impact.

In order to help you identify these products we've done two things. Firstly we've added a new icon that identifies the styles that are eco-friendly. Then we've added a new category of product called Eco-Apparel and in it we've assembled all the styles (with the exception of Merino wool garments which we feel can stand alone) from the other categories into one place.

Angela's Back

An absence of two years and two babies (Faith and Abbey) and Angela is back to help out after Christy left earlier in the year to join her partner in a dairy farm position. It is great to have Ange back on board, and taking over as if she's never been away. She will be working afternoons, and will primarily take care of order production.
